Vice-Chancellor

The Jinnah College for Women, University of Peshawar is one of the foremost female colleges of Khyber Pakhtunkhwa. Its students take great pride in being associated with it for getting admission into this prestigious institution is a herculean task. Merit is its only criteria and this is reflected in the excellent results the College produces session after session. The College has grown over the last fifty years from a small University College of a few students and a small teaching and administrative staff into a tremendous institution of two thousand students and a staff of over a hundred. The credit goes to the former Principals and Staff whose dedication to the College has produced an institute the Province can be proud of.

My main aim and objective is to make the Jinnah College for Women a very strong institution so that it can stand the test of time and will over the years to come work for the benefit and progress of our nation. I want it to be a College where not only great emphasis is stressed upon a good academic record but also great importance is given to good conduct and behavior. Jinnah College I hope will produce students who prove to be confident and successful in all walks of life.
